

Chief IPLC Service

Because of its specific neutral position and running an exchange center for these operators, many international telecommunications and submarine cable operators cooperate with Chief Telecom Inc. Nowadays most of submarine cable systems in Asia have built their network in Chief international data center.

Chief IPLC (International Private Leased Circuit) service provides a high quality network to connect companies from one location to another directly. With its characteristics of high speed and security, a global company can transfer important data, access system data remotely, and held a video conference via Chief IPLC service.

The coverage of Chief IPLC service includes Taiwan, Hong Kong, and the world's major cities in mainland China, Asia, Europe and America. Chief IPLC provides a multinational service with point to point connection and fixed bandwidth between enterprise and operators. It not only can link enterprise' s global locations, but also integrate data, voice (VOIP), and video services.

Stable Dedicated Circuit

Taiwan is located in the geographical center in East Asia. 95 percent of Asia international submarine cable operators have built their network in Chief's Taipei IDC Center. All of these operators can connect to each other by just an inner building fiber and then deploy their global business services. Chief has established long term relationships of bilateral cooperation with many global international telecommunication service providers. A variety of circuit bandwidth is provided by Chief to meet the different global connection requirements held by businesses. Businesses can connect to each other around the world easily, such as mainland China, Hong Kong, United States, Japan, Korea, Southeast Asia, and Europe.

Since many telecommunications bring network together in Chief IDC. Chief operates one of the most complete international communication network architecture. Enterprise can communicate to the international network by the shortest routing path through Chief's network switching center directly. Chief ensures the stability of the network via carefully selecting high quality partners and strictly routing planning. We also provide a 7*24 service to the customer. Any disorder can be recovery quickly. Thus we can provide the best international bandwidth service.

Professional Service

In order to simplify the procedures of network planning, and reduce effort of coordination between different service providers. We ensure that each process from network application, establishment, maintenance, and even other network services needed in operations will be taken good care of. Customers can just focus on their own business operations.

Chief 7x24 non-breaking NOC and customer service provide a real time network monitoring. We provide service assurance and make sure that customers can get network performance and status immediately. Customers can Both services let users understand the effect and status of network applications immediately, and to provide service assurance.

Service Advantages

- High Network Coverage : The coverage of Chief high quality network includes Taiwan, Hong Kong, and the world's major cities in Mainland China, Asia, Europe and America.
- One Stop Shop : Customer can apply international data circuit just through Chief.
- Service Assurance : For any service issue, Chief will actively inform customers and recover the service in the shortest time.
- 7X24 Customer Service.

Service Features

- Customers can have a safe, reliable and dedicated bandwidth service, without sharing with other customers, ensuring secured data transmission in real time.

- Chief has built a most complete international telecommunication network via establishing long term relationships of bilateral cooperation with many global international telecommunication service providers. We provide a variety of IPLC bandwidth to meet customers' connection requirements.
- Chief Taipei exchange center provides submarine cable system mutual backup. This can lower backup costs and operational risk.
- Chief IDC has brought together a number of domestic and foreign carriers' circuit. Customers can utilize these network resources directly through Chief exchange center to reduce the cost of large number of local or long distance circuit establishment.

Suitable Applicants

- Businesses which have demands of multinational connection.
- Telecommunication service providers.

